

Ms Mallika Jalan, Director, Centre for Contemporary Communication ( CCC)

Coming from the family background of arts, community service, politics and law Mallika is deeply interested in Development and Public Communication.

After graduating from Kolkata University with a BA and a Bed, she went to Cornell University in the USA to do a Masters Degree in Development Communication.

Upon completion of her Master's Degree Mallika has since been involved in several programmes of Development and Public communication.

She along with her colleague Dr. Tapati Ghosh run a Society called the Centre for Contemporary Communication. This Society is deeply motivated and is working for a Green and Sustainable Kolkata City. They are working hard to make Kolkata, a City in a Garden and one that is sustainable, safe and resource full for the generations to come. They have just published the first ever Directory of Kolkata Parks , which has been released on the 4th June, 2012.
